FARM ACCOUNTING CONTEST LAUNCHED

Bankers Evolve Plan for Stimulating Important Aid to Farm Success

THE Cache county, Utah, bankers recently added a stimulus to banker-farmer cooperative work by launching a farm accounting contest. At a meeting of the Clearing House Association the project was put before the bankers, and methods and plans formulated.

Each bank in the county agreed to enroll a minimum of five farmers in the farm accounting project. The names of the farmers when enrolled will be sent to the Secretary of the Clearing House, and also to the Extension Division of the Utah State Agricultural College. The bankers agree to cooperate and keep in close touch with each farmer they enroll so as to insure the completion of a maximum number. The bank which succeeds at the conclusion of the contest in enrolling the largest number of farmers completing the project will be given a special recognition at the annual meeting.

The banks of Cache county have agreed to subscribe to an award fund, which will be presented to five winners as follows: first prize, $25.00; second prize, $25.00; third prize, $20.00; fourth prize, $12.50; fifth prize, $7.50.

Recognition for Good Farming

In addition to the cash prizes, every farmer customer enrolled, who scores sixty per cent or more, will be awarded a special certificate issued by the Clearing House Association and the Extension Service jointly in cooperation with the Agricultural Committee of the Utah Bankers Association.

The scoring will be done on the following basis:

Farm and home account records (accurate and complete)	50%
Success of year's operations as brought out in the summary of the year's business	25%
General appearance of farm and improvements and condition of livestock and poultry, (judging to be done during the summer months)	25%

The contest will end December 31, 1933. The judges will be the County Agent, the County Key Banker, a representative of the Clearing Houses Association, and two representatives selected by the Extension Division of the College.

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C.H.R.

There's the story about the college professor who came into his class one morning and found his students loudly discussing the world series. He listened for a few moments, and then rapped for order. "Let's be quiet, I am ready to cast a few pearls."

Senator Ferguson entertained the judge and court during a lull after a shooting case yesterday by telling of a man who was on a train one day and got to toying with a pistol and before he knew it wondered how it would feel to commit suicide. He got so nervous he lost control of his fingers and the gun went off and nearly blew off his head. Probably another stock market case, senator.

The most excited person at the public wedding at the fair last Thursday night was not the bride or groom or the attendants. When John Curtis Caldwell came out leading the groom, his mother, Mrs. W. B. Caldwell, thought John Curtis was about to be married and could hardly stand the strain.

Churches occasionally send in to us notice that so and so has won a quilt or spread raffled off to the lucky number. We're sorry, but we can't publish that, because it's a lottery and Uncle Sam won't allow anything pertaining to a lottery to pass through the U. S. Mails. If articles like that could be mailed, the sponsors of the game of 'Numbers' would make an even greater killing.

'Dick' O'Brien is a man of known sterling abilities. But he has unearthed a new line. Tuesday night there was plenty of shooting in the Appomattox colored section and county officers went to apprehend the principals in the duel. Duval Conner hurtled a bob-wire fence and you know what a bob wire fence will when it meets flesh. Dick O'Brien was on the job to give first aid and did a famous job. Sheriff McKinney would have had him for his Sunday suit, if he had had on his Sunday suit.

• • •

Something will have to be done about Mayor C. S. McDearmon's telegraph service. It's too good. Yesterday Father Darkleaf had to send a wire, and before he could get back to the shop, Mr. "Mac" had the answer back!

• • •

But then Mother Brightleaf claims it takes me a long time to get from one street corner to another.

Horn-Blowing Contest, Dances, and Hunts Planned

They say around here in Appomattox that "Old Tom," a celebrated local red fox, can run backwards on a rail fence. For several years he has eluded the best efforts of chase after chase and out-ran and outsmarted the best fox hounds of Piedmont Virginia. He has left dogs wearily wagged their tongues and hunters bemoaning their luck.

The Piedmont Fox Hunters Association will come to Appomattox next Tuesday to begin its fourth annual field trials and bench show and no small part of the event will be renewed efforts to capture 'Old Tom' and countless other foxes roaming local fields and woods.

The hunts will last from Tuesday through Friday. The following program has been announced: Entry for the derby by 3 o'clock Monday night; 6 A. M. Dillwyn, Oct. 4.—The annual meeting of the Buckingham county chapter of the American Red Cross was held here recently at the high school. Secretary-treasurer P. H. Moss reported on work done by the Red Cross in the county. He stated that some 740 barrels of flour had been distributed. Represetives present from the Arvonia section of Buckingham county reported that approximately 500 people in that district had received help of some sort from the Red Cross. It was pointed out that the need in that particular section will not be so keenly felt this winter as last, since the quarries are working again and more people have employment.

Attend State Convention

Several ladies from Appomattox have attended the state convention of the U. D. C., being held in Richmond this week.

Interest in the convention has been kindled locally by the fact that considerable agitation has been heard throughout the South over the plan of the federal government to erect a "peace" monument at Appomattox, memorializing the national unity brought about here in 1865.

Many U. D. C. chapters and other Southern organizations have opposed the monument on the ground that it celebrates the victory of Grant over Lee and would serve to revive sectional hatred.

Local citizens have pointed to the "peace" and "unity" motive back of the plan and have urged construction of the monument.

Just what official action the convention in Richmond feels appropriate has not been ascertained, but there is a chance that due to the division of sentiment on the issue, it may be brought tot the convention floor.

Wheat Growers Form Organization Thursday

W. W. Scott, of Appomattox has been named president of the Wheat Production Control Association, an organization sponsored by the federal government and comprising in this section of Virginia the following counties: Appomattox, Buckingham, Charlotte, Prince Edward, Halifax, Pittsylvania, Cumberland and Campbell.

Mr. Scott was elected at an organization meeting held at Rustburg last Thursday. He is also a member of the allotment board which will pass on all applications.

Each county in the district held a meeting of wheat growers and elected a county director. Mr. Scott was named for this county, with S. E. Anderson and R. E. O'Brien as community committeemen.

Approximately 180 wheat growers in Appomattox county have signed the wheat production control contract with the government and others are being signed daily. It is understood that the complete list of signers, with detailed data concerning their acreage, will shortly be published.

Heralded as the application of the 'New Deal' to the wheat grower, the plan promises to control the production and indirectly therefore, the price of wheat. Farmers will be asked to reduce their production and sh re in the cash benefits to be derived therefrom. The record of signers to date in this county is one of the best in the district and chairman Scott looks to a forward step in the profit from wheat growing as a result of the leadership and cooperation of the government.

Markets To Open On 28 November

John D. Ogglesby announced yesterday that Lynchburg tobacco markets will open on November 28, instead of November 7, as previously planned. The change was made by the Lynchburg tobacco board of trade for the dark-fired markets. Sales will continue from the opening through until December 19, with no Thanksgiving holiday. Many growers were anxious to sell their crop earlier, but due to the tobacco holidays South of this section, it was necessary to postpone the opening in Lynchburg.

To Have A Clinic Here

It is a well known fact that 80% or eight out of every ten, cases of tuberculosis are cured who are properly treated in the early stage of the disease. The majority of cases, unfortunately, do not have reached an advanced stage.

Tuberculosis, as a rule, does not cause pain or suffering in the early stage. For this reason, it is sometimes very difficult to convince those found in this stage that they have tuberculosis, and this delays treatment until it is too late. To find it early they must consult their physician as soon as they feel the least bit badly.

A clinic will be conducted by a specialist of the State Department of Health for this purpose in the Courthouse, at Appomattox, on Monday, October 9. This clinic will be under the auspices of the county Board of Health and in cooperation with the physicians of the county.

If any treatment is found necessary, it must be done by the family physician, whose care and advice they must depend on for their health and happiness anyway. For this reason, it is necessary for those wishing an examination, which is free of cost to all, to consult their family doctor or visiting nurse and make an appointment. Those who do not have a written request from their doctor, or who have arrangements with the nurse, will necessarily be turned away.

Children under fifteen years of age are not examined at this clinic unless especially referred by a doctor. It has long been recognized that tuberculosis in children cannot be found without a special examination in which the tuberculin test and the x-ray are used.

County Goes Dry Tuesday

State 2 to 1 For Reseal and State Conrol

Appomattox county voted 638 to 346 Tuesday for retention of the eighteenth amendment and against repeal in a statewide election in which Virginia reversed the local ratio and voted for repeal by a two to one margin.

Only two precincts in the county voted for repeal, Clover Hill and Cheatwood. The closest fight developed at Clover Hill where the margin was 69 for repeal and 68 against.

The vote in the town of Appomattox or court house precinct was 242 against repeal and 99 for repeal, a total of 244 votes being cast.

On the second ballot at stake, the county voted 645 to 337 for retention of state prohibition and against a plan of state liquor control in event of repeal.

The total vote in the county was 1,004. This was a rather light vote, considering the weather on election day and the fact that prohibition has long occupied the attention of the voters.

The detailed vote in the county on repeal was as follows: Court house precinct, for repeal 99, against repeal 242; Clover Hill precinct, for repeal 69, against repeal 68; Agee precinct, 41 for repeal, against repeal 32; Oakville precinct, 32 for repeal, against repeal 83; Stonewall precinct, 33 for repeal, against repeal 72; Cheatwood precinct, 16 for repeal, against repeal, 3; Rocks precinct, 8 for repeal, against repeal 20; Walkers Church precinct, for repeal 14, against repeal 39; Chap precinct, for repeal 12, against repeal 36; Pamplin precinct, for repeal, 29, against repeal 43.

The vote on state control was as follows: Court house, for state prohibition 241, against 93; Clover Hill for state prohibition 69, against 69; Agee, for state prohibition 36, against 37; Oakville, for state prohibition 75, against, 35; Stonewall, for state prohibition 77, against 29; Cheatwood, for state prohibition 4, against 15; Walkers Church, for state prohibition 38 against 15; Chap, for state prohibition 35, against 15; Pamplin, for state prohibition 46, against 26.

The vote in Virginia was marked by the large majorities for repeal piled up in the urban centers, some voting as high as eight to one. The dry's depended for their strength on the rural sections, as had been predicted.

Virginia is the thirty-second state in the union to vote in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Thirty-six are required to vote for repeal before the end of the sixteen year period of national prohibition will close.

Appomattox To Get Gov't. Camp

It was learned today that the final allotment of C.C.C. camps to be located on privately owned lands, was made this week and that one of these camps will be located near Spout Spring in Appomattox County.

Col. H. F. Sharp, of the third corps aerial headquarters of Baltimore, was here this week conferring with State Senator S. L. Ferguson, and district forester, J. P. Andrews, in regards to the camp for this county.

It is understood that the camp for this county will also work Campbell and Amherst counties from the Spout Spring site. There are some twenty-five of these camps in Virginia, and that one of them is being located here is a result of the diligent efforts of senator Ferguson in that direction.
